Sub Veterans participate with Palm Beach Sea Cadet Corps

(THIS ARTICLE WAS SUBMITTED BY SUB VETS OF SOUTH FLORIDA TO THEIR NATIONAL JOURNAL)

Palm Beach Council President Ken Lee and one of his Submarine Veteran shipmate were guests of the Palm Beach Sea Cadets Corps at their weekend drill on Sunday, 23 January. Captain Ken Lee (Ret) and Master Chief Petty Officer George Hoyt (Ret) provided an overview of our U.S. Submarine Force and of life aboard a modern nuclear submarine.

They were peppered with many questions from the Sea Cadets and stayed until the last one was answered. Sea Cadet Petty Officers Golub and Hazell were presented framed photos of VIRGINIA-class submarines for answering the session-ending bonus questions correctly.

Also shown in the photo is the Sea Cadet Corps Commanding Officer, LCDR Dave Boucher, who welcomed our submarine veterans to their weekend activities. The Palm Beach Sea Cadet Corps operates from West Palm Beach, Florida and provides top level cadet training in seamanship, boat handling, rules of the road, navigation and even Special Warfare Combat Craft training and certification under LCDR Boucher's leadership.
